Corn Two Cents Per Pound.
The advance in the price paid the farmers for their sweet corn, for which the farmers have been working for some years, has been granted. A conference of the leading packers of the state was held in Portland, Thursday, when it was unanimously agreed that the price paid in 1902 should be 2 cents per pound. The price previously paid was 1 1/2 cents. The firms granting the raised price doing business in this vicinity are the H. F. Webb Co., the Barnham & Morrill Co. and the Penick, Keene & True Co. Many farmers in this vicinity have said that they would not plant sweet corn another year at the old price, but with this advance there is little doubt that all the acreage desired can be secured.

WEST BETHEL.
Mrs. Sarah J. York.
Mrs. Sarah J., wife of Noah S. A. York, died at Rumford Falls, Oct. 19. She was the daughter of E. Prescott and Julia Bartlett Bennett of Bethel. Mr. and Mrs. York were married at the Methodist parsonage on April 10, 1901 and went to Rumford Falls having decided to make that thriving town their home. Ten days prior to her death, Mrs. York presented her husband with a beautiful boy baby. On the morning of the tenth day she grew suddenly worse and died in a few hours. The funeral services were held in the Union church, Tuesday at 1 o'clock at West Bethel. The religious exercises were conducted by Rev. F. F. Fickett of Norway, a former pastor of the deceased. Mrs. York had been for years a worthy member of the Methodist church. How great the loss to the surviving husband and motherless babe, only those who know of whose home has gone a devoted wife and mother. Mr. George Bennett of Bethel is a brother of the deceased and the only remaining member of his father's family.

Harry Lane has moved from Bethel to Sumner.
Alan Melrod has a sow with eight nice pigs eight weeks old.
E. R. Bennett and wife of Gilead were at D. O. Bennett's, last Sunday.
John Stiles has gone to Lancaster, N. H., to stay a while with his daughter.
Mr. Curtis, a peddler from Groveton, N. H., was at Ordway's, last week.
Mrs. W. Bennett visited her aunt at Gorham, N. H., Sunday, going on the excursion.

Willie Bennett has swapped his pair of work horses and got a pair which look fine.
Minnie Stoddard and daughter Ethel of Rockland, Mass., visit at G. B. Lowell's, this week.
Mrs. H. E. Fiske recently received a visit from her sister and family from North Waterford.

Albert Mains of California is here on a visit to his sisters, Mrs. Chas. F. Brown and Mrs. H. E. Grover.
C. P. Valentine has the room in the ell part of his house newly plastered. The work was done by Henry Stiles.
We express thanks to Mrs. C. P. Valentine for a nice piece of deer meat which was shot by her brother, George Connor.

Fred Ordway and wife will go to Errol, next week, to be present at the wedding of Mrs. Ordway's sister, Edith Grover, which will be Wednesday, Nov. 5.

WEST PARIS.

Dr. F. E. Wheeler went to Bath, Tuesday morning. He expects to be gone a week or two on his wedding trip to Massachusetts and other places.
W. A. Baker, wife and son, Dr. W. H. Baker of Portland, are spending a week at Mrs. Baker's parents, Frances Young and wife. Their daughter May and her friend, Gladys Wood, spent Sunday here with them.
Dr. W. H. Baker met with a slight accident, Tuesday afternoon, while out gunning, by having one side slightly peppered with No. 4 shot from his father's gun, caused by a misunderstanding on the part of the doctor. Nothing at all serious, was out the next day.

KEZAR FALLS.
Funeral of Fulton Stanley.
Oct. 23, at the Methodist church occurred the funeral services of Fulton Stanley, a young man of about twenty years of age. Mr. Stanley died in Saco of appendicitis and was interred in the cemetery near Porter village. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Cotton of Hollis. A selected quartette sang "Rock of Ages" and "My Saviour First of All." The deceased was spoken of as a most estimable young man. He had been married about four months.

Rev. F. C. Potter has gone to Cleveland, Ohio, to attend a convention.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trueworthy have been enjoying the week with friends in Gorham.
J. M. Merrifield and granddaughter Jessie, Mrs. Elmer Chapman and a number of others have taken advantage of the excursion rates and are spending the week in Boston.

There was a heavy thunder shower at Bridgton Sunday evening. Lightning struck the barn of Edward Davis and house and barn were burned, together with four horses, two cows, two hogs, sixty hens, hay and entire fruit crop. The property was valued at $2500; insured for $800. The house furniture was saved.

Pedagogues in Convention.

"The natural resources of the state of Maine," said the speaker, "are equal to and many are far ahead of any other in the world. Our forestry, fisheries and such like all contribute to the state and state the best in the nation, and I do not deem it presumptuous to add that the influences of the resources as have been noted pertaining to our country and state can be considered the most necessary and helpful to the producing greatest minds, morals and social conditions among the people."

Continuing the speaker said that on every hand and in every locality there was something of nature's production from which a lasting and beneficial lesson could be learned.

He appealed to the teachers to take interest with their pupils in the study of flowers, trees and all other forms of nature, that the mind might be turned toward thoughts of higher things and a grander life.

Alton C. Wheeler spoke on "Nature Work in the Common Schools," and he was followed by Frances M. Wilson of Rumford, who talked on "Drawing and Nature Work in Autumn."

The necessity of cheerfulness on the part of the teacher, both in the school-room and private life, was the essence of Prof. George C. Farrington's lecture in the auditorium of the Congregational church, Friday evening. He also dwelt at some length on the subject of nature study by all persons, and the influence for good it has on humanity.

In the absence of Prof. Hanscom of Bethel, president of the Oxford County Teachers' Association, Prof. C. Wilber Cary of Rumford Falls presided at the meeting, and introduced the speaker of the evening. The latter prefaced his lecture on "The Spirit that Gives Life" by reference to the afternoon meeting of the association, which was addressed by George R. Howe, on "Why Study Nature?" The study of the latter subject is, in the opinion of Mr. Farrington, most important, and is conducive to good citizenship and good government.

One class of people believe that wisdom will die with the angels, another that it will go out of existence with the present generation of teachers, when new methods and new departures will be made in educational lines. His comparison of the present system of teaching with that in vogue two centuries ago, when pupils were allowed to study the Bible but two hours each week, less time being given to mathematics, still less to the languages and little time to morality.

Radical changes were made during the next 100 years, and still greater have been made during the last two decades. It was safe, therefore, to predict that the present methods of instruction will not be in existence a century hence. The fact that the statutes compel all state schools to be non-sectarian in many instances handicapped teachers who might draw good object lessons from the Bible, as for instance, the coal deposits of Pennsylvania, the copper streaks in Michigan, and others.

There is not a single law of nature that cannot be made to have a good moral lesson, and for that reason, if for no other, nature study should be an important accessory to the education of the child. The object of all teachers should be to carry the Spirit of Life into the schoolroom. Referring to cheerfulness on the part of the teacher the speaker said that when a smiling instructor enters the door of the schoolroom trouble goes out the back window. Melancholy is the worst characteristic a teacher could possibly take with her when preparing to work, and many times the cheerless teacher is hopelessly lost.

Enthusiasm should go hand in hand with cheerfulness, faith, love and sympathy. The schoolhouses should be made attractive, but as they are, many of them are better than the average home, and the confinement therein for a few hours each day is far better than the freedom of the streets for young and growing scholars.

Sympathy for those who are wayward and the speaking of kind and helpful words are preconditions of good results in the ranks of the young as those of more mature years. He closed with an eloquent appeal to his hearers to endeavor at all times to be cheerful, sympathetic, loving, having faith and enthusiasm.

Saturday forenoon the teachers were addressed by Dr. Bial F. Bradbury, who talked for an hour on "What to do in case of Accident." It was a sort of "first aid to the injured" lesson, the speaker explaining in plain terms how one should act when another is overcome by fainting or fits, sunstroke, freezing, suffocation, shock, or attacked with hemorrhage, afflicted with burns or scalds, poisoning, and foreign bodies in the eyes.

With the assistance of Ned Truman as subject, the doctor illustrated the Spanish system of staying the flow of blood, and also the setting in place of a bone which has been fractured. How to act in time of drowning accidents, and attempts to restore life to the body by means of artificial respiration was also explained and in such a manner that few if any, if they paid close attention to the speaker, could fail to understand what to do in such cases of emergency.

Much of the address was of the same character that the doctor has delivered before the First Maine Regiment on two different occasions, and once before the Second Maine Regiment.

The committee on resolutions, Eva G. Walker and Alton Wheeler, South Paris, and C. W. Cary, Rumford Falls, reported. They thank the officials of the association for earnest zeal and pains-taking effort; the citizens of Norway for hospitality and local committee for plans and work that have proved so successful; to the Portland & Rumford Falls Railroad for transportation favors; to the press for publicity given to the convention; to Prof. George R. Howe, and Dr. Bial F. Bradbury for addresses delivered.

Before adjournment in the afternoon the members of the association were extended an invitation to hold the convention of 1903 at Oxford.

Hunted and Hunters.

John A. Woodman Retires from Hunting, And Says Stagings for History's Sake—Hybrids Not Uncommon, According to Mark Tapley—Camp Medford Opening—News of the Big Game.

Hunted and Hunters.

John A. Woodman retires from hunting. And says things for history's sake. Mark Tapley—Camp Medford Opening—News of the Big Game.

(Quoted by O. Warren Brown.) I was in the office of the Bear's Hotel. John Woodman, who had finished loading his rifle, was telling the crowd of interested hunters, who were bunched together in the open stove, that he had been hunting for ever and anon. He had shot his shotgun during the forenoon and in the afternoon received money for a rifle he purchased for the purpose of deer killing in the West River region.

There was much sorrow in the crowd, when they thought of the fact that John Woodman, who had been hunting for many years, was about to close his eyes. He had been hunting for many years, and he had been hunting for many years. He had been hunting for many years, and he had been hunting for many years.

He had been hunting for many years, and he had been hunting for many years. He had been hunting for many years, and he had been hunting for many years. He had been hunting for many years, and he had been hunting for many years.

He had been hunting for many years, and he had been hunting for many years. He had been hunting for many years, and he had been hunting for many years. He had been hunting for many years, and he had been hunting for many years.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

Mrs. Jeanette T. Gardner.
Mrs. Gardner died at her home on Main street, Thursday evening about half past eight. She was born in Buckfield, Sept. 9, 1834, and was the daughter of the late Rev. George Thomsen who was a Universalist pastor and preached at the old church on the Hill. Her mother was Rebecca Davis of Buckfield. She married Oscar Gardner of Buckfield, who died in 1876. There are three children: Mrs. Jeanette T. Gardner of Norway, with whom she has made her home for many years, Eugene Gardner of Buckfield and Gertrude O. Gardner, a teacher in the Norway public schools. There is a sister, Mrs. Emeline Strout of Portland, and a brother, Randolph C. Thomsen of Buckfield.

She was a very sweet and sunny dispositioned woman always kind and helpful and charitable in thought and in deed. She was highly intellectual and had scholarly tastes, keeping informed of the important events of the world and reading of the best literature. Up to within a few years she has been a very active woman, smart and capable, and even when strength was failing she was anxious to accomplish deeds and unwilling to give up the burdens and cares of every-day life. She was a member of Norway Universalist church and an earnest and conscientious Christian. Funeral services were held at the house, Sunday morning, Rev. G. E. Angell officiating. The relatives and a few intimate friends were present. The burial was at Buckfield.

Charles T. Witt for Congress.
Charles T. Witt, a brother of Edward E. Witt of this town, was nominated by the republicans in the ninth congressional district at East Boston, at their recent convention. Although the district has sent a Democrat, James A. Conroy, to Congress for the last two terms there is every indication that Mr. Witt will be elected.

The Boston Journal, in commenting on the state of political affairs in that district, said Monday, that the nomination of Mr. Witt satisfied the members of his party as well as a good many democrats, and his election is practically assured.

Mr. Witt is a well-known business man of East Boston. He served in the board of aldermen of 1893, 1894 and 1895, and later was a member of the state senate. He was the party candidate for congress in the ninth district two years ago, but at that time there was practically no opposition in the democratic party to Hon. Joseph A. Conroy, the democratic nominee. He will undoubtedly prevent Mr. Conroy getting many votes in the district this year.

Mrs. Addie Evans has recently visited at G. W. Stoyes' at Gorham, N. H.

Warren E. Bartlett has returned to Norway and will enjoy himself hunting. Samuel H. Hayden came down from Haverhill, Mass., and spent Sunday with relatives here.

New cards giving the number of all phones of the Eastern Telephone company's circuit in Norway, South Paris, Waterford and Oxford have been issued. While instructions to that effect have been printed, it is the hope of the central operators that patrons will soon learn to call by numbers instead of by name.

Pearl Cook went away from her home a while Saturday, and when she returned she found twenty-two of her little boy and girl friends there. It was within a day or two of her eleventh birthday and a little surprise was planned for her. She had several presents: an opal ring, a beaded purse, money to put in it, handkerchiefs, pin tray, stationery and many little remembrances. A lunch was served to the guests, including sandwiches, cake and fancy crackers, orangeade, and a handsome birthday cake with little dolls as favors to the guests. The dining room was trimmed with evergreen and autumn leaves. Her friends congratulated her on her birthday and wished her many more merry anniversaries.

Letter to Abner Jackson.

Norway, Me.
Dear Sir: Do you mix your own paints yet? You can do better. Zinc is hard to mix; requires machinery. Mixing by hand is slow and unsatisfactory work; and, in mixing lead and zinc, you have nothing to go by; both being white, when are they mixed? Also, zinc should be ground into the lead; not simply mixed in, but ground in.

Buy Devos lead and zinc. It is the right proportion and thoroughly ground in linseed oil; nothing else, but color and dryer.

The colors are uniform; ready to dip the brush in. Costs less and wears twice as long as show-mixed paint.

Yours truly,
F. W. Devos & Co.

Electricity to Harrison?

Actions of Several Capitalists Here This Week Indicate There's Something Doing to Be Done—Water Privilege and Road Maps Looked After.

A party representing a Boston syndicate has been in town during the past few days, looking over the road bed of the Oxford Central railroad, memories of which still linger in the minds of many Norway citizens. There is a rumor grounded on some fact that the purpose of the inspection was to open negotiations again for the building of the road with an extension to Harrison, where connection would be made with the narrow gauge which runs to Bridgton.

One of the inspecting party told the Advertiser man that in all probability the maps of the Oxford Central railroad would be secured, and that the road from here to Waterford would be over the same bed as it was intended to place the rails of the road in 1897. The new road will be 18 miles long. Asked as to the financial obligations of the intended builders, the man replied that one of the chief members of the syndicate was the man who had built the Cape Porpoise and Sanford road, and that he was at present the head of the company putting in the $100,000 water service at Bridgton. No doubt the towns through which the road may run will be asked to appropriate an aggregate sum of $25,000 and the promoters of the scheme would bond the road for the balance.

In reply to the query if the application for a charter for a road from Norway to Lewiston had hastened or renewed activity on the part of the promoters of the new road, the capitalist smiled and looked wise. He didn't answer in words.

One member of the party engaged the services of a Norway millwright and a trip was taken to Crooked river, where the proposed site of the power house of the new road was looked over, and an estimate made of the cost of securing the privileges and erecting the building. On his return from Crooked river the railroad man was asked how he was impressed with his inspection, and he said "favorably." He would not say how soon a charter would be applied for, but intimated that it would be in the near future.

Emma Davis of Woodstock has been visiting her brother, Judge H. C. Davis. Perley E. Crockett, an employee of the Berlin and Gorham electric road, and also a special policeman in the former city, was in town last week.

Theodore Roosevelt on "The Presidency." Before his nomination for the Vice-Presidency Theodore Roosevelt wrote expressly for The Youth's Companion an article on "The Presidency." It will be published in the number for November 6th, this being one of the remaining weekly issues of 1902 sent free from the time of subscription to every new subscriber who at once sends $1.75 for The Companion's 1903 volume. When this article on "The Presidency" was written no one could have foreseen or dreamed even that he would be so soon called upon to take up the duties of the great office. For this reason alone, what Mr. Roosevelt has to say possesses extraordinary interest, and will be eagerly awaited by persons of all shades of political opinion.

The twenty-eight-page Prospectus of the 1903 volume of The Youth's Companion and sample copies of the paper will be sent free to any address.

Noted Paintings

Given Away Each Week With the Boston Sunday Journal.

The splendid series of paintings which the Boston Sunday Journal has been reproducing and distributing to its readers has been added to by some recent selections by members of its art staff, and during the next few months some of the most noted of modern paintings will be reproduced in their original colors and given free to every buyer of the Boston Sunday Journal.

In addition to this, the Journal has resumed its publication of the bound magazine, which, with its splendid stories and departments, illustrated with the most artistic copper-plate cuts, furnishes a feature not obtainable with any other Sunday paper in New England.

These two expensive and attractive features are in addition to the complete newspaper which the Journal issues every Sunday, a newspaper justly popular for the brilliancy of its writers and the care and attention given to its editing.

Young girls, at this period of life, or their mothers, are earnestly invited to write Mrs. Pinkham for advice; all such letters are strictly confidential; she has guided in a motherly way hundreds of young women; and her advice is freely and cheerfully given.

School days are danger days for American girls. Often physical collapse follows, and it takes years to recover the lost vitality. Sometimes it is never recovered.

Perhaps they are not over-careful about keeping their feet dry; through carelessness in this respect the monthly sickness is usually rendered very severe.

Then begin ailments which should be removed at once, or they will produce constant suffering. Headache, faintness, slight vertigo, pains in the back and loins, irregularity, loss of sleep and appetite, a tendency to avoid the society of others, are symptoms all indicating that woman's arch-enemy is at hand.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped many a young girl over this critical period. With it they have gone through their trials with courage and safety. With its proper use the young girl is safe from the peculiar dangers of school years and prepared for hearty womanhood.

A Young Chicago Girl "Studied Too Hard."
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to thank you for the help and benefit I have received through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. When I was about seventeen years old I suddenly seemed to lose my usual good health and vitality. Father said I studied too hard, but the doctor thought different and prescribed tonics, which I took by the quart without relief. Reading one day in the paper of Mrs. Pinkham's great cures, and finding the symptoms described answered mine, I decided I would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. I did not say a word to the doctor; I bought it myself, and took it according to directions regularly for two months, and I found that I gradually improved, and that all pains left me, and I was my old self once more. — LILLIE E. SINCLAIR, 17 E. 22d St., Chicago Ill."

"Miss Pratt Unable to Attend School."
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to tell all young women how much Lydia E. Pinkham's wonderful Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was completely run down, unable to attend school, and did not care for any kind of society, but now I feel like a new person, and have gained seven pounds of flesh in three months. I recommend it to all young women who suffer from female weakness. — MISS ALMA PRATT, Holly, Mich."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one sure remedy to be relied upon at this important period in a young girl's life.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.

ed River exhibit which was over 200 years old. This was, without doubt, much the oldest amongst many ancient articles.

Mrs. Lyman Shedd showed a shark's jaw which Frank Peterson took from a shark captured on a vessel on which he was sailing. It was rather a rough looking affair and had a set of teeth which looked to be capable of doing good business. It is claimed that if any of these teeth are broken out others will grow in their place in about a week.

The master spirit of the fair-show was J. P. Martin of Naples, who is a veteran in the business and has been employed as hall superintendent by many societies. He fully understands his business, has good taste, and will quickly "bring order out of chaos." Mr. Martin is also noted as a florist and has been employed in that capacity during the last two summers at the Bay of Naples Inn.

Geo. H. Greene of North Bridgton and W. W. Hamlin of Casco showed the U. S. Separators at the fair.

Draft steers 2 years old, only one pair entered. Prentiss Fogg, Harrison, exhibited them to good advantage, only showed what the steers could do, but it was plain that in a year or two brother Thomes and the other older drivers of draft oxen have got to look out for him as he is yet under twenty and the way that he managed his team made it evident that he is a first class teamster.

The base ball game between the Bolster's Mills and East Raymond's was in favor of the East Raymond's, 16 to 4.

C. C. Dearborn, who sells the Atkins saws, was here telling of the good qualities of the saws made by his firm. All kinds of saws are made and sold at reasonable prices.

A. Oscar Noyes met us and said he considered that he had got the best Nelson 4-months-old colt in this section.

J. C. Maxfield of Edes' Falls had the dining room as usual and it was well patronized. He has operated it for the past six years.

The merry-go-round was not on the grounds and was much missed, especially by the children.

EAST FRYEBURG.

Destroyed by Fire.

The farm buildings owned by Lester Warren and occupied by a man named Smith, standing near the forks of the road which leads to Brownfield, just below the white schoolhouse, were destroyed by fire Saturday afternoon. The barn burned first, so the family saved nearly all their household goods.

Mrs. B. G. Seavey is on the sick list. H. D. Harnden has a gasoline engine. Herbert Pendexter is at work for John Pike.

Willie Berry is quite sick with nervous trouble. Percy Walker is helping Joseph Chadbourne run his cider mill.

Fred Dennett of Scarborough was at H. D. Harnden's Sunday.

Mrs. Bennett McDaniels made Mrs. A. J. McIntire a short visit, Friday.

Percy Kenerson is stopping with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Seavey, for a little while.

Mrs. Lester Warren and Nettie Warren were visitors at Ed Smith's on Thursday afternoon.

Allie Walker is home on a vacation from her work in Portland, where she has been for the past year.

The Burkes from Freedom went through the place recently with quite a drove of nice looking cattle.

The East Fryeburg corn shop closed to corn packing, Tuesday, the 9th and then packed shellbeans a few days.

Waldo Ramsdell has changed his mind about going off on a trip with J. H. Ryan and is going to stay at H. D. Harnden's through the winter instead.

Mrs. Ethel Wilson made a short visit at her mother's, Mrs. Mary Douglass', last week. She also called on her sister, Mrs. Percy Walker.

Died at East Fryeburg of diphtheritic tonsillitis, Walter, only son of Luther and Wilmina Harnden. They have two girls left. This is the third boy they have lost.

Any one who wishes the latest style in visiting cards had better inquire of T. S. McIntire of Fryeburg Center where he gets his. He has a new style and a new way of leaving them at the door when the first people away from home where he calls.

Mr. and Mrs. Armond Warren went to Denmark, Sunday, to call on their cousin, Mrs. Abban Bradbury, nee Lizzie Watson, formerly of Hiram. She is very ill, having had an operation performed. She is in the hands of a trained nurse and seems very comfortable, and her friends are quite hopeful of her recovery in the near future.

Cut His Foot Badly.

George F. McKenney received a bad wound in his foot, last Friday, by his axe glancing while cutting a bush on the telephone line near I. W. Marshall's. A doctor was quickly summoned. He is anxious to get back to work and rode out on Saturday. The axe cut into the bone. No large arteries were injured, but several small ones were severed, so they were obliged to tie the cords tightly around the spot where he was at work. The cut is very painful.

R. G. Harlow is laid by with sickness and unable to go out.

A majority of our citizens are having a lively time with colds.

The cold air, last Friday night, froze the apples that remained unpecked on the trees. They were left for time to thaw before picking.

The Sunday school picnic was not largely attended, but was well enjoyed by those present. Work is too pressing just now to leave for pleasure.

Frontie B. Ryerson leaves this week for Bridgewater, Mass. Her father is expected to accompany her on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Hattie B. McGeech, and family.

Victor DeCosta and family have moved into the house formerly owned by Mr. Worthley, purchased last spring by R. G. Beals. Fred Bryant and family have moved into the house Algonquin Ryerson sold to W. H. Berry.

BUCKFIELD.

Boys usually have a season of walking on stilts, but it was left for three men to move an open shed on stilts at Hotel Long. Without stays or braces, and with one post lacking, they commenced. One man cried out "Look out!" Then came a skedaddle, and down came the roof, covering a surrey which they had forgotten to remove, "covering it as a hen covereth her brood under her wings." Tom has a roof to sell.

BRYANT'S FOND.

Exciting Runaway.

Last Saturday as G. W. Q. Perham with his wife and child were driving into the village, his horse took fright from a barrel, near Horace Noyes, and ran through the village. Quinby is a strong man, but it made no impression on stopping the horse, as the horse held the bits in his teeth, but he kept him straight in the village, above the village, Charlie Day caught him by the bit and the horse fell, for Quinby had held his head so high that he could not breathe. When he fell he broke one shaft and crumpled one wheel. It was a wonder that no one was hurt.

Lena M. Felt came home, Sunday, for a week's visit.

M. M. Libby returned to West Poland, last Saturday.

HARRISON.

Apples Plentiful.

The apple crop in many cases is much larger than was anticipated, and the quality is very good. This is especially the case in the vicinity of Maple Ridge.

E. L. Poor of Sebago visited at A. F. Davis' Monday night, on his way to Paris.

Mrs. W. L. Davis and Mrs. M. M. Patrick attended the national W. C. T. U. convention at Portland, this week.

Charles D. Jordan of Denmark came over Monday to pick the apples on the Davis place, which he bought this summer.

Mrs. Andrews, who has been in the hospital at Portland for appendicitis, has returned home, greatly improved in health.

Bela Strout has of late been suffering from a severe attack of sciatica, but is now able to ride out some.

Bertha M. Strout, who has been at work for W. W. Andrews, Otisfield Gore, during the summer, is now staying at home for a short time.

Strawberry blossoms have been quite common during the last four weeks, and some were seen in full bloom in a sheltered spot, two or three days after the first heavy frost.

A scarcity of help is reported, and farmers find it difficult to get enough to secure their crops as early as they wish. The scarcity is also reported in other lines of business.

Harrison is not a great town for crows, but one of our South Harrison citizens reports that he saw a flock of 80 pass over a few days ago, and it was rather a poor day for crows too.

S. P. Pendexter is at work in Bridgton with a logging crew in the employ of Lewis Knight of Naples. He is doing the cooking in the camp, and such outside work as he has time for.

All of the schools close a nine weeks session on Friday, Oct. 24th. There will be a three weeks vacation before the beginning of the winter terms, and few if any changes of teachers will be made.

George P. Carlsby has a crew at work on the foundation for his new stable, which will be built as soon as possible by Nathaniel Warren of Otisfield. His new barn is not to be built until early in the spring.

Potatoes which were dug early are reported to be rotting in the cellars to some extent. Some are rotting, and others having been left in the ground as late as possible on account of the tendency to rot.

The water in Anonymous Pond (or Crystal Lake) is very low, considering the amount of rain that has fallen during the season. Some various causes for this are being sought, and a big draft from this little body of water.

The Bolster's Mills Telegraph and Telephone Co. has recently declared a second semi-annual dividend of three per cent. on all stock, which indicates a flourishing condition, and the prospect is that it will do even better in the future.

Herman V. Kneeland, the mail carrier on R. F. D. No. 1, is having a week's vacation and has taken a trip to Boston to visit the Mechanics Fair and other places of interest. Chester Tarbox, the substitute carrier, is driving while Mr. K. is absent.

The morning of the 18th was much the coldest of the season thus far—mercury 21 and lower, and the ground froze for the first time. Apples remaining on the trees were frozen solid. The weather moderated so much before the next morning that it was 28 degrees warmer.

Ruth Buck, daughter of A. C. Buck, has been quite sick at North Bridgton, where she is attending school, during the past week, and her sister Lottie is there caring for her. At last accounts she was better, and will probably be at home in a few days.

Mrs. George H. Cummings had 46 different articles of fancy work on exhibition at the Crooked River Grange exhibit at the Northern Cumberland fair, and every article was well worthy of special mention. She was the largest exhibitor in that line of work.

The Harrison shop was a remarkable one for this season, but the statement that it is the largest on record is a mistake, as about double the amount has been packed in a previous season. The present year's pack is more than double what was expected at the opening of the season.

The Scribner Bros. are making apple barrels at their cooper shop at Scribner's Mills at the rate of 900 per week. They had orders for 5000 some time ago, and other orders are coming in. The demand was so large that their supply of staves was much too small, and a large lot was ordered from Portland. They have leased a shop at Harrison village, and have a small crew at work there making shooks.

The family of Mrs. O. P. Stokes of North Harrison seems to have been rather unfortunate of late. A short time ago her daughter Geneva fell out of an apple tree and injured her left arm severely, and in a day or two after her son Frank accidentally shot himself in the thigh while cleaning a revolver. The bullet lodged in the flesh in such a way that the physician did not deem it advisable to attempt to remove it, and the patient is doing well.

RUMFORD FALLS.

Joseph Rovins, who was arrested Friday on the charge of having set fire to the house in which he was living, has been held in the district court in $5,000.

At the special town meeting on Monday, the town of Rumford voted to appropriate $1,000 to build the new stretch of highway between points in Perry and Rumford, where recent rains did such devastation. The P. & R. F. railway also has devoted $500 toward building the road. The piece of roadway is very nearly completed. It has been built under the supervision of the road agents of the two towns. At this same session, $1,000 was appropriated to build a plank sidewalk over the hill to Virginia, so called the Light House hill. Work on this will be begun at once.

WEST LOVELL.

Mrs. V. H. McAllister's brother from Boston visited her lately.

Nathaniel Fox went to Hollis, the 15th after his wife's aunt, Miss Pamela McDaniel, returning the 16th.

The library circle will hold a supper at their hall Nov. 6. On Saturday those who have an interest in the hall will meet to shingle and clapboard the walls and the ladies will furnish the dinner.
